It is unprofessional conduct for a veterinarian to administer, prescribe, dispense or furnish a drug, medicine, appliance, or treatment of whatever nature for the prevention, cure, or relief of a wound, fracture or bodily injury or disease of an animal without having first established a veterinarian-client-patient relationship with the animal patient or patients and the client, except where the patient is a wild animal or the owner is unknown.

A drug shall not be prescribed for a duration inconsistent with the animal(s) medical condition or type of drug prescribed. The veterinarian shall not prescribe a drug for a duration longer than one year from the date the veterinarian examined the animal(s) and prescribed the drug.

Written Prescriptions in Absence of Originally Prescribing Veterinarian

(a) Prescribing, dispensing, or furnishing dangerous drugs as defined in Section 4022 without an appropriate prior examination and a medical indication, constitutes unprofessional conduct.

(b) No licensee shall be found to have committed unprofessional conduct within the meaning of this section if, at the time the drugs were prescribed, dispensed, or furnished, any of the following applies:

1. The licensee was a designated veterinarian serving in the absence of the animal patient’s veterinarian, as the case may be, and if the drugs were prescribed, dispensed, or furnished only as absence of client communication, when:

(1) A VCPR was established with an original veterinarian, and another designated veterinarian serves in the absence of the original veterinarian, and;
(2) The designated veterinarian has assumed responsibility for making medical judgments regarding the health of the animal, and;
(3) The designated veterinarian has sufficient knowledge of the animal(s) to initiate at least a general or preliminary diagnosis of the medical condition of the animal(s). This means that the veterinarian is personally acquainted with the care of the animal(s) by virtue of an examination of the animal(s) or by medically appropriate and timely visits to the premises where the animals are kept, or has consulted with the veterinarian who established the VCPR, and;
(4) The designated veterinarian has continued the medical, treatment, diagnostic and/or therapeutic plan as was set forth and documented in the medical record by the original veterinarian.

(b) If the medical, treatment, diagnostic and/or therapeutic plan differs from that which was communicated to the client by the original veterinarian, then the designated veterinarian must attempt to communicate the necessary changes with the client in a timely manner.

necessary to maintain the animal patient until the return of the originally prescribing veterinarian, but in any case no longer than 72 hours.

(2) The veterinarian transmitted the order for the drugs to another veterinarian or registered veterinary technician, and if both of the following conditions exist:
(A) The practitioner had consulted with veterinarian or registered veterinary technician who had reviewed the patient's records.
(B) The practitioner was designated as the practitioner to serve in the absence of the animal patient's veterinarian, as the case may be.
(3) The licensee was a designated veterinarian serving in the absence of the animal patient's veterinarian, as the case may be, and was in possession of or had utilized the animal patient's records and ordered the renewal of a medically indicated prescription for an amount not exceeding the original prescription in strength or amount or for more than one refill.

"Veterinarian-client-patient relationship" means a relationship in which the conditions in paragraphs (a) to (d) have been met.

(A) The veterinarian has assumed the responsibility for making medical judgments regarding the health of the animal and the need for medical treatment, and the client has agreed to follow the instructions of the veterinarian.

(B) The veterinarian has sufficient knowledge of the animal to initiate at least a general, preliminary, or tentative diagnosis of the medical condition of the animal. The veterinarian must be acquainted with the keeping and care of the animal by virtue of an examination of the animal or medically appropriate and timely visits to the premises where the animal is kept.

(C) The veterinarian is available for consultation in case of adverse reactions or failure of the regimen of therapy.

(D) The veterinarian maintains records documenting patient visits, diagnosis, treatments, and drugs prescribed, dispensed, or administered, and other relevant information.

The following act by a licensed veterinarian is unprofessional conduct and constitutes grounds for disciplinary action against the licensee: prescribing or dispensing, delivering, or ordering delivered a controlled substance without first having established a veterinarian-client-patient relationship by having personally examined the individual animal, herd, or a representative segment or a consignment lot and determining that treatment with the controlled substance is therapeutically indicated. Use of euthanizing drugs in recognized animal shelters or government animal control facilities is exempt from this requirement.

A veterinarian or the veterinarian's authorized employee may dispense veterinary prescription drugs, human drugs for extra-label use, or an over-the-counter drug for extra-label use by a client without a separate written prescription, providing there is documentation of the prescription in the medical record and there is an existing veterinarian-client-patient relationship. The prescribing veterinarian must monitor the use of veterinary prescription drugs, human drugs for extra-label use, or over-the-counter drugs for extra-label use by a client.

A veterinarian may dispense prescription veterinary drugs and prescribe and dispense extra-label use drugs to a client without personally examining the animal if a bona fide veterinarian-client-patient relationship exists and in the judgment of the veterinarian the client has sufficient knowledge to use the drugs properly.

general or preliminary diagnosis of the medical condition of the patient because the veterinarian has recently examined the patient or has made medically appropriate and timely visits to the premises on which the patient is kept.

(C) The veterinarian is readily available for follow-up treatment of the patient if the patient has an adverse reaction to veterinary treatment.

unless all of the following apply:

a. A veterinary-client-patient relationship exists between the veterinarian, client and patient and the veterinarian has made a careful medical diagnosis of the condition of the patient within the context of that veterinarian-client-patient relationship.

b. The veterinarian determines that there is no drug that is marketed specifically to treat the patients diagnosed condition, or determines that all of the drugs that are marketed for that purpose are clinically ineffective.

c. The veterinarian recommends procedures for the client to follow to ensure that the identity of the patient will be maintained.

d. If the patient is a food-producing animal, the veterinarian prescribes a sufficient time period for drug withdrawal before the food from the patient may be marketed.

(4) Transmit a prescription electronically unless the client approves the transmission and the prescription is transmitted to a pharmacist or veterinarian designated by the client.

Wyoming Administrative Rules (BVM) WCWR 024-251-004 (§3)

A veterinarian-client-patient relationship shall be characterized by:

(A) The Licensee assuming the responsibility for making medical judgments regarding the health of the animal and the need for medical treatment;

(B) The client has agreed to follow the instructions of the Licensee;

(C) The Licensee having sufficient knowledge of the animal to initiate at

For a licensee to properly exercise the rights granted by the license, a veterinarian-client-patient relationship shall exist.

No prescription drug shall be prescribed, dispensed or administered without the establishment of a valid veterinarian-client-patient relationship. least a general or preliminary diagnosis of its medical condition. This means that the Licensee has recently seen and is personally acquainted with the keeping and care of the animal as a result of an examination or by medically appropriate and timely visits to the location where the animal is kept.

(D) Readily available follow up care in case of adverse reactions or failure of the regimen of therapy.
