The AVMA welcomes comments from its members and other stakeholders on this DRAFT revision of the MVPA. The document on which you are commenting will not become official AVMA policy until the comment period ends, all comments have been carefully reviewed, any appropriate changes have been incorporated into the document, and the resulting revised draft has been considered and approved by the governing bodies of the AVMA. If you are interested in the current version of the MVPA that was approved in 2013, you can find that here.

Prior to offering it for review, this DRAFT of the MVPA was carefully compiled by the AVMA Council on Veterinary Service using input solicited from other AVMA entities and numerous key stakeholders across the country. Your comments will help us further improve this important document.

To help us ensure your comments are fully understood and appropriately applied, please indicate the section and subsection to which you are referring when you make your comments.

We thank you for taking the time to provide your thoughts. Once you have finalized your comments, please click on the box on the bottom of the form to email your comments to the AVMA.
