

The Council on Education withheld initial accreditation to the Faculty of Health and Medical Sciences School of Veterinary Medicine and Animal Sciences at the University of Copenhagen. The School was not in compliance with Standard 1 Organization, as the individual who fulfills the role of chief executive officer (dean) of the School is not a veterinarian, and with Standard 9 Curriculum, as plans to increase surgical and necropsy experiences for students have not been fully implemented.

The School was given an opportunity to provide comments regarding the above statement, but did not provide any.