Surviving Hurricane Michael: How your support helped a Florida clinic

Last fall's hurricanes caused severe destruction across the southeastern United States, destroying homes and businesses, and injuring and displacing both animals and people. For Breeze Animal Hospital in Florida, an AVMF relief grant made a huge difference. Your generosity helped the hospital provide boarding, medical treatment, and emergency care for animals during and after the hurricane. Read more.

AVMF charitable fund helps dog, owner maintain special bond

Porky hasn't had an easy life. Found emaciated and suffering severe skin disease and separation anxiety, he eventually was rescued by an owner whose love and attention brought out his sweet, loving nature. But both Porky and his owner suffered setbacks recently. After paying for emergency surgery to remove a dangerous object Porky had swallowed, the owner lost his job. Then Porky tore a knee and needed surgery. Luckily for Porky's owner, he was able to get help. Read more.
nigament and needed more surgery. Struggling financially, Porky’s owner turned to the AVMF Veterinary Care Charitable Fund®. Read more >

WHY I GIVE

"The contributions my wife, Chris, and I have made for more than 20 years to the AVMF have done our hearts and souls good. I encourage everyone to support the AVMF by making a donation today."

Dr. Larry Kornegay, Houston, Texas

Four military veterans receive AVMF/AVMA scholarships

The AVMF and AVMA are pleased to announce the recipients of the 2019 Scholarship for Military Veterans. This scholarship is awarded to military veterans pursuing an education in veterinary medicine. Meet the recipients

Ohio State University researcher receives AVMF/Winn Feline Foundation Award

Dr. Jessica Quimby, associate professor at The Ohio State University, received the AVMF/Winn Feline Foundation Research Award during the National Veterinary Scholars Symposium held on July 27 at Tufts University. Read more >

Make a lasting impact: Plan for a legacy gift to AVMF

A planned gift to AVMF can help you achieve your philanthropic goals and financial planning needs and provide significant support to the AVMF as we develop resources to advance the science and practice of veterinary medicine to improve animal and human health. See how you can make a lasting impact while creating a legacy that will last forever. Read
You can make a lasting impact while creating a legacy that will last for ever. View more.

Donate now to the AVMF