

DIRECTORY OF AVMA ECFVG® LISTED VETERINARY COLLEGES

(Exclusive of the United States and Canada; as of June 12, 2024)

The schools listed on the AVMA ECFVG®-listed school directory, and their curricula, are not reviewed, accredited, validated, endorsed, approved, accepted, granted, or certified in any manner by the AVMA or the ECFVG program. The AVMA ECFVG-listed school directory is used by the AVMA solely to allow individuals to apply for enrollment in the ECFVG certification program. An individual from a non-listed veterinary school cannot apply for enrollment in the ECFVG program until the school becomes listed. If there is no individual applying to the ECFVG program, the ECFVG will not consider a request to list the school. To be eligible to apply for enrollment in the ECFVG certification program, an individual must be a graduate of, or final-year student at, an AVMA ECFVG®-listed veterinary college.

The time required to add a school to the AVMA ECFVG-listed school directory varies and depends on many factors, such as the country or language of communication within the country of origin, and the speed at which the school responds to the ECFVG's request. Individuals interested in registering for the ECFVG certification program should plan well in advance as the time required to add a school to the directory is beyond the control of the ECFVG.

For the most current AVMA ECFVG-listed school directory, please go to the website at <https://ecfv.org/ecfv/AVMACertificationMain.aspx>.

If a school is not already included in the AVMA ECFVG-listed school directory, specific documentation is required to add the school. Please visit the website for information.

Schools accredited by the AVMA Council on Education ® (COE) can be downloaded here (printable list).
