

Notice of accreditation actions by the AVMA Council on Education December 2024

The AVMA Council on Education (COE) is recognized by the United State Department of Education as the accrediting agency for colleges and schools of veterinary medicine in the US. In keeping with the regulations of the United States Department of Education, the following are the accreditation actions taken by the AVMA COE®.

The Council took the following actions during its December 16, 2024, meeting.

Accredited is a classification granted to a college that has no deficiencies in any of the Standards and is granted for a period of up to seven years. A college with one or more minor deficiencies that have minimal or no effect on student learning or safety, that can be reasonably be addressed in one year, are Accredited with minor deficiencies. Colleges with a status of Accredited submit annual interim reports to monitor continued compliance with the Standards of Accreditation. Colleges with a status of Accredited with minor deficiencies submit reports twice a year.

Based on the review of a report submitted, colleges/schools were placed on the following accreditation status:

- Kansas State University College of Veterinary Medicine – Accredited
- VetAgro Sup Campus Veterinaire –Accredited

Probationary Accreditation is granted to a college that has one or more major deficiencies that have more than minimal impact on student learning or safety. These deficiencies must be corrected in two years. College must submit reports to the Council every six months. If minor deficiencies are not corrected within one year, a college will be placed on Probationary Accreditation for one additional year. College must submit reports to the Council every six months.

Based on progress reports reviewed by the AVMA COE®:

- Seoul National University, College of Veterinary Medicine – placed on Probationary Accreditation with minor deficiency in Standard 4, Clinical Resources.
- University of Utrecht Faculty of Veterinary Medicine – placed on Probationary Accreditation with minor deficiency in Standard 3, Physical Facilities and Equipment.
- Lincoln Memorial University Richard A Gillespie College of Veterinary Medicine –continued on Probationary Accreditation with major deficiency in Standard 10, Research Program.
- Oklahoma State University College of Veterinary Medicine – continued on Probationary Accreditation with major deficiency in Standard 4, Clinical Resources.
- Tuskegee University, College of Veterinary Medicine – continued on Probationary Accreditation with major deficiencies in Standard 2, Finance; Standard 4, Clinical Resources; Standard 11, Outcomes Assessment.

Reasonable Assurance is the classification granted to a US or Canadian institution seeking initial accreditation. Reasonable Assurance is not a preaccreditation action by the Council and does not confer accreditation of any kind on a developing college. A letter may be granted to an educational institution indicating that there is reasonable assurance of future accreditation of a developing college of veterinary medicine in the US or Canada, if such a college is established according to detailed plans presented to the Council, and if these plans demonstrate intent and a realistic plan to comply with the Standards of Accreditation. Reasonable Assurance may lead to Provisional Accreditation. Reasonable Assurance may be renewed annually by the Council for a maximum of three years based on progress documented in writing twice a year (July and January). If a developing institution granted Reasonable Assurance fails to continue to demonstrate that its plan to develop its program will comply with the Standards, or if the program significantly changes its plan without notifying the Council, the Council may withdraw the classification of Reasonable Assurance.

Based on evaluation of a focused site visit that took place in Fall 2024 the Council continued on Provisional Accreditation:

- University of Arizona College of Veterinary Medicine, Tuscon, Arizona (June 15, 2020 – June 15, 2025).
